1. APPLICATION PROCESS

Stage 1 Expressions of Interest

Expressions of Interest are sought from artists (or a team of collaborating artists) to deliver a piece of Public Art. Shortlisting will be based on the information provided (see Appendix A) using the Evaluation Criteria set out in Appendix B. Please read Appendix A carefully and comply fully with the requirements.

The deadline for receipt of applications is Tuesday 9th December 2014. The selection panel will consider submissions received by this deadline and select up to three artists to go forward to Stage 2 of this process.

Stage 2 Proposal

£500 will be made available to up to three artists / teams who will be invited to present their proposals to the selection panel. The proposal must include; sketch designs, visualisations and/or a maquette as well as an explanation of the concept for the artwork, how it relates to our theme and how the artist/artist team would approach its design, fabrication and installation. Details of maintenance requirements and lifespan expectations should also form part of the presentation.

The artist/artist team must demonstrate how the work can be implemented within the allocated budget and details of the anticipated duration of the project with timescale broken down into research, production and delivery. The selection panel aims to select one artist / team to undertake the commission.

The Castleblayney Community Enterprise will be at the heart of this project and the selected artist/artist team must demonstrate how they will work with the community to develop a sense of ownership / pride in the piece & the environment and most importantly help create a shared space for all. Therefore the artist/artist team must also outline the approach they will take to engage and work with the local community and showcase the successful project.

Selected artists / teams must submit their presentations to Tommy McGuire

2. BACKGROUND

The project seeks to develop a legacy artwork reflecting the themes of the Programme.

The Building Peace through the Arts – Re-Imaging Communities Programme themes are community cohesion, regeneration through the arts, positive relations at the local level, peace and reconciliation, connecting communities.

Castleblayney is a border town close to the County Armagh border and had over the years suffered from the legacy of the troubles and from lack of economic and social investment. In more recent years much valuable work is been undertaken by many important local community groups and organisations such as Castleblayney Community Enterprise the Community Group driving this Project, which address issues and themes of sectarianism and cultural differences in an attempt to promote understanding and tolerance. This Building Peace Project through the Arts sought to build further on this good work and support community cohesion by helping to facilitate discussion with people who had been reluctant to explore and talk about sensitive issues of the past. It was intended that this focused dialogue would look at particular stories from the past which may be used to help acknowledge and celebrate our differences and give recognition to any such achievements which would then be used to produce a shared piece of art work.

As a first phase of the project the group developed a local steering group to help manage the process. An Artist Joanne Behan was recruited to carry out creative community consultation with a wide range of stakeholders in the community. She presented a report containing her findings to the steering group including possible themes and potential site locations for the proposed artwork. The steering group agreed that 'A celebration and recognition of talent, achievement and community spirit' is the theme most open to artistic interpretation.

The preferred location for the public art is inside the right hand entrance to Lough Muckno Leisure Park which was once the home to the town founders the Blayney Family and later the Hope Family. Lough Muckno Leisure Park is a beautiful and excellent amenity in the centre of the town and attracts people from all over the County and beyond. It is also the entrance to the Black Island Forest which has dedicated park walks and also the entrance to White Island which is been developed for Course Angling fishing and attracts local, national and overseas fishermen. Finally the park now hosts a beautiful new play park which is widely used by local people and others within the County. The site is owned by Monaghan County Council and additional development of the site is also possible.

3. ARTIST'S BRIEF

Theme: 'A celebration and recognition of talent, achievement and community spirit'

The Project was initially devised by the applicant who wished to create awareness of the story of a local athlete John Mc Geough who competed for Scotland and Great Britain in the 1906 and 1908 Olympics but failed to receive local and Irish recognition due to widespread anti-English sentiment which was intensified within Irish Nationalism in the early years of the 1900s and has prevailed to this day.

Following the outcome of the Community Consultation by the artist facilitator additional topics and stories emerged which were also important to the stakeholders who engaged with the Project. These included recognition for Thomas Hughes VC another local who was British Army Soldier and recipient of the Victoria Cross, the highest and most prestigious award for gallantry.

Recognition was also requested by the participants for the rich musical talent that exists in the town given the local origins of musicians such as Big Tom, Paddy Cole, Anna Mc Goldrick, Maurice Lynch and the popularity of other young and up-coming musical and band talent that exists.

The group also discussed and sought recognition for all the local talent and achievements especially the work by many community groups and volunteers. There seems to be a great community spirit in Castleblayney which is evident from the amount of clubs and community groups that were represented at this Project. The following groups were mentioned: Castleblayney Faughs GFC, Castleblayney Show, Castleblayney Community Enterprise Ltd, Tidy Towns, Drama Festival, Blayney Blades, Muckno Mania, Youth Work Ireland, Fair Day Committee, Traders Association, Over 55's Club, Blayney Cultural Network Group.

Recognising local achievement and talents as well as an appreciation of all the good work that is being done by local voluntary organisations is something that is both valued and shared by the Community and was evident from the community consultation.

Project Specific Constraints: It is part of the artists brief to contact utilities companies and statutory agencies for advice in regard to nearby services i.e. electricity and water supply for any artist wishing to incorporate light or water as part of the art works, although this is not a pre-requisite of the brief. Any work involved in extending the services to the site will be part of the overall budget. The site is located along the leisure park avenue and therefore the artist will need to ensure that materials used take road safety into consideration.

Materials: The brief does not specify the materials to be used, but the artwork is intended to be permanent and of high quality. Therefore should be made of high quality, durable materials which require minimum maintenance.

Other Considerations: The successful artist / team will be expected to provide satisfactory drawings and elevations to satisfy planning procedures. On completion of the project, the successful artist will be required to provide an engineer's certificate to satisfy the groups Steering Panel that the artwork has been designed, constructed and installed in accordance with current standards and judgments.

4. PUBLIC ART SELECTION PANEL/STEERING GROUP

The selection panel is comprised of representation from local stakeholders and the Arts Council of Northern Ireland. This panel will be responsible for all short-listing and selection procedures as well as overall management of the project.
